3. RATIONALE

In line with Republic Act No. 7192 and Republic Act No. 9710, the Philippine Coast Guard (PCG) in Section 4.1 of the IRR of RA 9993 is mandated to mainstream gender sensitivity in all its planning activities, setting of priorities, allocating of resources, policy decision-making and identifying actions and activities in relation to all existing laws relative to Gender and Development (GAD). It further obliges the PCG to establish a GAD Focal Point to plan, monitor, coordinate, assess and evaluate GAD-related activities and programs.

4. PURPOSE

To provide reorganization and enhancement of the Gender and Development Focal Point System guidelines, fortifying its authority, roles, composition and structure. This empowers it as a catalyst for gender mainstreaming in the Command, promoting Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment. The initiative aims to overcome challenges, formulate strategic initiatives and reshape the agency's culture to promote gender equality, inclusivity and empowerment for all PCG personnel.

5. DEFINITION OF TERMS

- A. GAD Focal Point System – is an interacting and interdependent group of people in all government instrumentalities tasked to catalyze and accelerate gender mainstreaming. It is a mechanism established to ensure and advocate for, guide, coordinate and monitor the development, implementation, review and updating of GAD plans and GAD-related programs, activities and projects (PAPs).
- B. GAD Plan and Budget – is a systematic approach to gender mainstreaming, carried out by all government instrumentalities, through the annual development and implementation of programs, activities and projects and addressing gender issues and concerns in their respective organizations, sectors and constituencies by utilizing at least 5% of their total budget allocation.
- C. Gender – refers to socially determined ideas and practices of what it is to be female and male.
- D. Gender Analysis – refers to a framework to compare the relative advantages faced by women and men in various spheres of life, including the family, workplace, school, community and political system. It also takes into account how class, age, race, ethnicity, culture, social and other factors interact with gender to produce discriminatory results.
- E. Gender and Development (GAD) – refers to the development perspective and process that is participatory and empowering, equitable, sustainable, free from violence, respectful of human rights, supportive of self-determination and actualization of human potentials. It seeks to achieve gender equality as a fundamental value that should be reflected in development choices and contends that women are active agents of development, not just passive recipients of development.

- F. Gender Audit – refers to a form of “social audit” or “quality audit” that determines whether the organization’s internal practices and related support systems for gender mainstreaming are effective, reinforcing each other and are being followed. This tool or process assists organizations in establishing a baseline, identifying critical gaps and challenges and recommending ways of addressing them.
- G. Gender Equality – refers to the principles asserting the quality of women and men and their rights to enjoy equal conditions realizing their full human potential to contribute to and benefit from the results of development and with the State recognizing that all human beings are free and equal in dignity and rights.
- H. Gender Equality and Women’s Empowerment Framework (GEWEF) – Gender equality and women’s empowerment are attained through an interconnected cycle of strategies and interventions progressing along five levels: welfare, access, conscientization (consciousness-raising), participation and control.
- I. Gender Mainstreaming – refers to the strategy for making women’s as well as men’s concerns and experiences an integral dimension of the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of policies, programs and projects in all social, political, civil and economic spheres so that women and men benefit equality. It is the process of assessing the implications for women and men of any planned action, including legislation, policies or programs in all areas and at all levels.
- J. Gender Sensitivity – Encompasses the ability to acknowledge and highlight existing gender differences, issues and inequalities and incorporate these into strategies and actions.
- K. Performance-Based Budgeting – is an approach to budgeting which involves a review of the agencies’ existing budgetary programs and projects to ensure that this supports their core mandated functions and produces targeted outcomes and outputs.
- L. Programs, Activities and Projects – assessed using all five levels as parameters and these are redesigned to address the welfare, access, conscientization, participation and control levels for them to truly advance gender equality and women’s empowerment.
- M. Rights-Based Approach – refers to the recognition of every human being both as a person and as a right-holder. It strives to secure the freedom, well-being and dignity of all people, everywhere, within the framework of essential human rights standards, principles, duties and obligations.

- N. Women's Empowerment – is a goal of and an essential process for women's advancement. It is a process and condition by which women mobilize to understand, identify and overcome gender discrimination to achieve equality in welfare and equal access to resources. In this context, women become agents of development and not just beneficiaries enabling them to make decisions based on their own views and perspectives.
